When we began, two years age, we were met on every hand with the statement "We dare not take your paper and pay in advance, for fear of losing our money," We have long since ceased to hear this assertion. The COMMERCIAL is on a solid financial basis. It is a paying institution. It is destined to live. It has a solid, reliable class of paying subscribers. We doubt if there is a country paper in Michigan, that has so large a class of reading, thinking, able, wealthy subscribers as the COMMERCIAL. Very few communities in the State can furnish a larger reliable class o farmers. Ypsilanti Township is largely Republican, and every intelligent, reliable Republican in the township takes the paper. So in Pittsfield, largely in Augusta, a liberal sprink.

A TRAFFOR.

Andrew Johnson has proved him self, what we have intimated for some time past, a TRAITOR! -A traiter to this party, his country and his God .-A traitor to his own convictions uttered not many months since in Tennessec. A traitor to the freedmen whom he had promised to lead. We believe that he sold himself out near six months since. The Democratic press knew what they were about when they so fulsomely praised him. They had no doubt reliable assurances that the President was their man. The copperhead press North and the rebel press South, sent up in one universal chorus, in con-.cord and harmony, the shout of approfbation. They swore by no other name than Andrew Johnson.

And now after his veto, who are his endorsers? Republicans read:-

DAYTON, O., Feb. 20. The Democracy of Dayton had a jollification over President Johnson's veto of the Freedmen's Bureau Bill, this afternoon firing one hundred guns .-Mr. Vallandigham made a brief speech, saying the Democracy did not elect President Johnson, but now it was for exultation. A flag floats from Mr. Vallandigham's window.

The traitor Vallandigham is now his supporter. Is there a Republican willing to stultify himself and follow the lead of the unchanged traitor Val-Sandigham? Who are shouting the praises of the President to-day? Your copperhead neighbor. Who show the same joyous countenances and hilarity of feeling as when during the war our Union army had suffered a crushing tor's profits off. The poor man who gress and the American people think otherdefeat? We well know.

When the President in his drunken spree, made that maudlin speech, disgracing the American name, we felt that there was something wrong. It was an unwarranted, imperious lecture to Congress upon their duties. He exhibited his lack of sympathy with the foolish. BE TELUTERVUL ALWAYS. Two country lads came at an early hour to a market town, and arranging their little stands, sat down to wait for customers. One was furnished with fruits and vegitables of the boy's own raising, and the other supplied with clams and fish. The market hours passed along, and each little merchant saw with pleasure his store steadily increas ing, and an equivalent in silver bit shining in his little money cup. The last melon lay on Harry's stand, when a gentleman came by, and placing his hand upon it, said! "What a fine large melon; I think I must have this for my dinner. What do you ask for it my boy?"

"The melon is the last I have, sir and though it looks very fair there is an unsound spot on the other side," said the boy, turning it over.

"So there is," said the man; "I think I will not take it. But," he added, looking into the boy's fine open counte nance, is it very business-like to point out the defects of your fruits to customers?

"It is better than being dishonest, sir," said the boy modestly. "You are right my little fellow; always remember that principle, and you will find favor with God, and man also. You have nothing else I wish, for this morning, but I shall remember your little stand in the future. Are those clams fresh?" he continued, turning, to Ben Wilson's stand.

"Yes, sir; fresh this morning, I caught them myself," was the reply; and a purchase being made, the gentleman went

"Harry, what a fool you was to show the gentleman that spot in the melon. Now, you can take it home for your pains, or throw it away. How much wiser is he about these clams I caught yesterday? Sold them for the same price I did the fresh ones. He would never have looked at the melon until he had gone away."

"Ben, I would not tell a lie, or act one either, for twice what I have earned this morning. Besides I shall be better off in the end, for I have gained Congress Street, 2 doors west of Bogardus bank a customer, and you have lost

And so it proved, for the next day the gentleman bought nearly all his fruit and vegitables of BUREAUS Harry, but never invested a pensy at the stand of his neighbor. Thus the season passed; the gentleman finding he could always get a good article of Harry, continually patronized him, and sometimes talked with him a few minualled

Dr. Valpeu, the eminent French surgeon, and one of the most distinguished members of medical professions living REMEDY FOR CHOLERA members of medical professions living made the following remarks at a recent meeting of French physicians; "I am obliged to avow that it is not always in our power to point out an efficacious remedy. The cholera is no doubt caused by the introduction of a poison of skep, loss of memory. Jose of energy and numerilar opening strong, it makes no ravages if the contrary be the case, the danger is real. Also when the patient absorbs what is administered to him his cure is probable, but somtimes the stomach refuses to absorb any thing, in this case recourse should be had to external means, which are often insufficient. In a word, the malady almost always, commences by characteistic symptoms such as premonitory diarrhea. The preventive treatment is easy, and it is for each person to guard himself. Extensively observed. The means of arresting the malaby at its outset are very simple. My advise is this: Pour from three to four drops of laudanum on a lump of sugar and swallowit. Repeat in two hours afterwards, and so on, until the colic and vomiting pass away. Take also very small injections of starch, poppy flowers with six, seven eight or ten drops of laudanum on a lump of sugar and swallowit. Repeat in two hours afterwards, and so on, until the colic and vomiting pass away. Take also very small injections of starch, poppy flowers with six, seven eight or ten drops of laudanum. This treatment almost always suffice to stop the diarroca, and will be a guaranty againft the malady."

THE TRECHHENA. Our readers and the public are doubtless aware of the appearance of the epidemic in Prussia, known as Trichina, caused by the eating of diseased pork. This disease is the result of the presence of innumerable microscopic worms or animalculæ, called Trichina Spiralis, found in the muscles and intestines of various animals, especially swine and rabbits, and in such enormous quantities that 100,000 have been found in a single ounce of pork. Meat thus affected, when eaten, communicates the disease to the human body, and the consequence is the epidemic is communicated, which is attended with immense suffering, often followed by death. We are informed that a case of Trichina occurred in this city a few days since, the subject being a German girl, a patient of Dr. Herman Keifer. The symptoms were of unusual nature, and at first inexplicable.-After her death, a post mortem examination was held, which resulted in establishing the fact beyond doubt that she died from Trichina, a small piece of her flesh being examined by a microscope, revealed the existence of a large pearance to the Trichina Spiralis.-This is one of the first cases of the kind known in this country. Dr. Keifer is of the opinion that nothing but long boiling will destroy these animalculæ in pork .- Detroit Commercial Adv.
